Adi
Shankaracharya
Temple

The Shankaracharya Temple is a significant Hindu temple located in Srinagar, the summer capital of Jammu and Kashmir, India. It is dedicated to Lord Shiva and is situated atop the Shankaracharya Hill, which offers panoramic views of the city, Dal Lake, and the surrounding Himalayan mountains. This ancient temple holds immense religious, cultural, and historical importance, especially for Hindus in the Kashmir Valley.

The temple is believed to have been originally constructed by the Hindu Shahi dynasty in the 9th century. However, it was later renovated and expanded by Shankaracharya, a revered Indian philosopher and theologian who is credited with the revival of Advaita Vedanta (a school of philosophy emphasizing non-dualism). The temple is named after Adi Shankaracharya, who is said to have visited this place during his journey through Kashmir. According to some accounts, Shankaracharya is believed to have meditated at this site and restored the temple to its former glory.

Hazratbal Shrine

Hazratbal Shrine is one of the most revered and significant religious sites in Srinagar, Jammu and Kashmir, India. It holds immense importance for Muslims in the region and attracts thousands of pilgrims every year. The shrine is famous for housing a relic believed to be the hair strand of Prophet Muhammad, which is displayed to the public on special occasions.

The Hazratbal Shrine was originally constructed in the 17th century during the reign of the Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan. It was built as a madressa (school) and place of worship for the Muslim community.

The shrine's name, Hazratbal, translates to "The Blessed Place," referring to the revered relic it houses. The relic, known as the Moi-e-Muqqadas (sacred hair), is believed by many to be a hair strand of the Prophet Muhammad.

The relic was brought to Kashmir by Syed Abdullah in the 17th century, and since then, it has been kept in the shrine. The relic has an immense spiritual significance for Muslims in the region, and it is believed to have miraculous powers.

Winter of Srinagar

SWEET HAPPY JOURNEY

Srinagar's winter typically starts in November and lasts until February, with January being the coldest month. Heavy snowfall is common during winter, especially in December and January, when the city and surrounding areas are blanketed in snow. The snow creates a stunning landscape, with the Himalayas and Zabarwan Range covered in white.

Kashmiri Winter Traditions:

Wazwan Cuisine: Winter is a time to enjoy the rich and aromatic Kashmiri Wazwan cuisine, known for its mutton dishes, yakhni, and the iconic rogani naan. Traditional winter delicacies like Kashmiri Kahwa (a spiced green tea with saffron, cardamom, and almonds) and Gushtaba (meatballs) are popular among locals and visitors during this time.

Kangri: Locals use a kangri, a traditional Kashmiri earthen pot filled with burning embers, to keep warm during the frigid winter months. These portable heaters are carried under the clothing, especially while walking outside.

Pheran: The traditional Kashmiri winter wear, the pheran, a long, woolen cloak, is worn by most people during the winter to protect themselves from the cold. The pheran is designed to keep individuals warm while allowing freedom of movement.
